QUESTIONS WHILE YOU WATCH THE VIDEO OR READ THE ADVENTURES OF PEEDEE THE PIRATE

Are the children enjoying the story in the video?
Do you think the boy, Dean, would like to be a pirate?

AFTER YOU WATCH / READ

Discussion
Identify the title, author and illustrator.
Ask your students to summarize the events of the story.
Where does this book take place?
How would you describe school pride? How is pride demonstrated in the story?

Grammar
Sounds as words
An onomatopoeia is a word that imitates a sound. “Meow” and “Roar” are examples of an onomatopoeia. Did this story have an onomatopoeia? It was repeated twice. What is the correct spelling of Aargh! Arrrgh” or ARRRRGGGHH!? All of them. It is spelled phonetically, or as it sounds. So spelling depends on how you say Arrrgh!

What does Arrrgh mean? It is an expression of excitement, meaning yes, or an enthusiastic exhilaration. It is an interjection, one of those action words that makes up a sentence in just one word, like “Go!” or “Run!”

Literary Devices
Story as Allegory
An allegory is a story where characters and events are used to convey another meaning, and often they are moral or social lessons. What do you think this story about PeeDee is trying to tell us? Is the story really about a pirate going to college? Can you imagine going to college? Would you swim in the fountain?

Author’s Intent
Do you think the author, Ralph Finch, and illustrator, Mike Litwin, like sports?
Which sports are talked about in the story?
Would you like to come to ECU and cheer on the Pirates?
The Adventures of PeeDee the Pirate

In this book PeeDee wears a pirate hat and eye patch. In this activity children will manipulate paper to create a fun hat.

PIRATE HAT

Who wears head coverings in the story?
Why would someone wear a hat on a boat?
What is unique about PeeDee’s hat?

Materials
black 18 x 24 paper (or newspaper)
white 4 ¼ x 5 (or smaller) paper for cross bones
scissors
glue stick
pencil

Fold black paper in half. Fold again to find the center.
Bend in the top corner to make a triangle. Bend in the other corner to make another triangle fold,
Turn one bottom up to make the hat rim and fold. Flip the whole paper over to the other side.
Turn the bottom up to make the hat rim. Glue the ends of the rim together.
Fold the small white paper in half. Draw a bone shape on one side of the fold. Cut 2 bone shapes out of white paper, cross and glue to the hat.

The Adventures of PeeDee the Pirate

In the book PeeDee wears a pirate hat and eye patch. In this simple activity children will manipulate paper to create an eye patch.

PIRATE EYE PATCH

Who wears an eye patch in the story?

(Answer: PeeDee, and later in the story, one of the children)

Materials

- black paper, minimum 24 inches long
- black felt
- white glue
- scissors
- stapler

Cut black felt into 2 in. squares for each child. Older children can round the corners to make an eye-patch shape, or pre-cut for younger ages.

Cut black paper into $\frac{1}{2} \times 24''$ strips to go around the circumference of the children’s head.

Children will glue the top edge of the felt onto the black paper strip, slightly off center.

Staple the strip in the back to form a forehead-band.

Wear the paper band above the ears to keep in place.
The Adventures of PeeDee the Pirate

In this book PeeDee carries a sword. Additionally, foam swords are shown in the background as a symbol of school pride. In this activity children will cut foam pool noodles to create a short sword, or dagger.

PIRATE SWORD

Who carries a sword in the story?

How would you show school spirit with a sword?

Materials

1 70 inch 2 inch diameter foam pool noodle (1 per every 4 students)
craft knife
10 inch serrated bread knife
1 inch painter’s tape
craft foam sheets, 22 mm
ruler

Cut the pool noodle in half (into approximately two 35 inches long pieces) with a serrated knife. (Each 70 inch noodle makes four pirate swords.)

Measure 5 inches from each end (these will become 2” diameter 5 inch grip handles). With the serrated knife, cut 25 inches between the handles all the way through the foam. Cut up on the ends creating two 30 inch swords with 5 inch handles with 25 inch blades.

Create a finger hold in the grip (hilt) with the craft knife or scissors by removing a $\frac{1}{2} \times 3$ inch segment to the center of the noodle handle.

Slightly taper into a blade shape with the craft knife.

With scissors, cut a 5 inch circle in the foam sheet for each sword. Cut a 4 inch “X” into the center. Run this down the blade of the sword to create a bell guard at the grip. Secure with tape if desired.

With a craft knife, cut 9 x 1 inch foam sheet strips for the decorative sword handle. Secure with 1 inch tape at the pommel (end) and just behind the bell guard.

Introducing sports to children is a great way for them to get started on lifelong fitness. Physical activities such as baseball, football and basketball are fun to watch as well as play.

GAME OF FOURSQUARE

In this book PeeDee supports his team, The Pirates. Which ECU team sports does he dream of?

Materials

- chalk / tape
- a flat area 6 feet or larger
- rubber ball (at least 4 inches in diameter, or as large as a basketball)

Minimum number of players: 4

How to play:

1. Use chalk or tape to create a large square court at least 6’ x 6’ (or as large as 30 feet) subdivided into four boxes numbered 1 to 4. A player stands in each box, but may move outside the box to hit from their square.

2. The person in square 4 is the “Captain.” The Captain serves the ball.

3. The Captain starts by bouncing the ball in their own square once, then hits it to the 1 square using only hands, until a player misses, hits out of the square, or lets it double bounce in their square — then, they’re out! Players are not allowed to hold the ball, hit mid-air before the bounce, or hit with another body part.

4. The remaining players advance to the next higher square with a new player filling in on square one.

Fun Fact:

In 2014, 15 college students played foursquare for 31 hours and set the world record.
